Can You Hack It? Inside Your IT Infrastructure

September 16th 10:00 a.m.

Over the past year, recent cybersecurity threats have been affecting various industries. And now, the risk and exposure related to these cyber threats remains at an all-time high. Yet, most organizations struggle to build and maintain effective cybersecurity programs.

Join us for this year's Managers' Summit, as we present the framework for establishing a cybersecurity program, listen to a panelist discussion on experiences learned from being hacked, and a professional ethical hacker will reveal some key system vulnerabilities.

Registration details to become available on perma.org.
